STATEMENT (max. 200 characters)

In this phase of great transformations, States and cities must have a vision of the future on actions to be activated to rethink a more sustainable and equitable way of life for all. In this scenario, the UIA can play a fundamental role, for the community of architects and for society, if it is able to reorganize itself to respond to the challenges of complexity.

I would therefore like to commit myself to promoting, within the UIA, a new project centred on the human and sustainable dimension of the territory and on the common foundations set by the 17 Goals of the United Nations 2030 Agenda, as well as encourage the development of architectural education in all its aspects.
